

「Glandore」

Clare Kelly, Director

Glandore

Established in 2001 Glandore is the leading provider of flexible workspace in Ireland with a portfolio including six premium locations in Dublin and two locations in Belfast. An Irish family business, Glandore also owns and manages Suesey Street restaurant and the elegant private dining and event venue, No.25 Fitzwilliam Place.

Glandore provide flexible workspace solutions including virtual offices, coworking, meeting and event space and private offices for companies of all sizes and stages of growth. Our diverse membership includes early stage indigenous start-ups and entrepreneurs, freelancers, SME's, international scale-ups and large multinationals across all industries.

At Glandore we strive to give our members the very best start to their business in Ireland. We have been very proud to provide the first home and EMEA headquarters for many International companies including Facebook, Twitter, Dropbox, Bulgari and Bloomberg.

We are also inspired by the ambition and success of the many Irish start-ups and SME's that we have accommodated since 2001. Through our Glandore Business Network events, we facilitate unique networking opportunities between our indigenous and international start-ups, alumni and wider business community to foster collaboration and innovation.

As a family business led by three sisters, Glandore is passionate about promoting diversity and inclusion in the workplace and mindful of the obstacles that prevent women realizing their full potential. Our bi-annual Hear from Her event celebrates the women in our community that have made an impact on Irish Life. Our ambition through our events is to provide a platform to increase the visibility of inspiring female role models for our future leaders and highlight programmes and initiatives that promote gender parity and support female ambition.

"Glandore is thrilled to support the Starting Strong initiative and I look forward to meeting and getting to know the ambitious and exceptional entrepreneurs in this cycle. Glandore firmly believes in the power of community, peer collaboration and shared insights in accelerating business growth and hope that through our wide network and experience in accommodating early stage start-ups we can be of tangible support to the participants." Clare Kelly, Director

