

Marina Giblin, Private Wealth Management

Key Capital

Key Capital has been providing corporate finance and wealth management services to Ireland's entrepreneurs since its foundation. We have a strong culture of supporting business and social innovation. We consistently provide the highest quality advice to private companies in relation to acquisitions, disposals, capital raising, restructuring and strategic growth, and have helped many family businesses to realise their potential.

Through our wealth of experience, Key Capital understand the dynamics of industry and the diverse business sectors in which our clients operate. We work closely with individuals and family business owners to gain an understanding of their personal financial objectives, and to provide valuable assistance in the transition process when entrepreneurs sell their businesses.

This is a new phase for business owners and their families as they seek to secure their long term future and develop personal investment goals. Key Capital uses the custody and research services of large global banks, namely Deutsche Bank and Credit Suisse, to deliver leading global investment opportunities to our clients locally. We are privately owned, and have a long term commitment to our clients and their businesses. Our private wealth management business offers a personalised service to a small number of clients.

According to Marina Giblin: 'When joining Key Capital the main attraction for me was the culture of growth, opportunity and innovation. To have the opportunity to work in a dynamic environment that offers world class investment providers locally in Ireland is unique. I seek to develop a close relationship with my clients and take seriously the responsibility of advising them on their families' future. The Key Capital team is delighted to participate as a supporter of the Starting Strong programme and to collaborate on this wonderful initiative, which I feel provides a lovely synergy with our own business.'
